ABOUT THE DAYTON PERFORMING ARTS ALLIANCE (DPAA):

The Dayton Performing Arts Alliance (DPAA) was formed in July 2012 as the result of a groundbreaking and innovative merger between the Dayton Ballet, the Dayton Opera, and the Dayton Philharmonic Orchestra. Today, the DPAA is the largest performing arts organization in the greater Dayton community, with a mission to be the community's indispensable source for traditional, diverse, and innovative experiences in ballet, opera, and orchestral music. DPAA performances reach an audience of more than 90,000 people annually, and its rich arts education programming serves over 75,000 schoolchildren in 150 schools in the Miami Valley. Our driving purpose is to inspire as many people as possible to fall in love with the arts.

DAYTON BALLET SCHOOL

Founded in 1927 Dayton Ballet school was the first school for dance education in this region and remains the only school associated with a professional company.

The Dayton Ballet School is dedicated to giving people of all ages and abilities the opportunity to experience and appreciate the art of dance. Dance classes help create a community of people sharing the same experience and striving for the same goal. We take pride in the fact that many of our students have gone on to become ballet professionals as dancers, costume designers, choreographers, and teachers.

DIVERSITY, EQUITY, AND INCLUSION

We, at the Dayton Performing Arts Alliance, exist to serve the community and have a mission to transform lives through the power of music and dance. We believe that to be a vital organization, we must be an inclusive organization. Serving an audience that is reflective of our diverse community is central to our mission. For the DPAA, a commitment to diversity represents the active inclusion, within both the organization and our audience, of the broadest possible representation of our Miami Valley community. This includes race, color, gender identity and expression, religion, sexual orientation, national origin, ancestry, age, marital status, political affiliation, veteran status, non-job related handicap, or any other protected characteristic.
